LOGICTREE TO VOICE AUTOMATE CITCO MUTUAL FUND SERVICES HELP LINE

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – LogicTree Corporation announced today it was awarded a contract by Citco Mutual Fund Services (CMFS) to provide voice automation for its Shareholder Servicing and Transfer Agency division.

“This is our first voice automation system and we wanted to use best-of-breed technology. LogicTree offers an incredibly robust system with unrivaled functionality for our industry. Users will be impressed,” said John Lukan, CEO of CMFS. “In addition, LogicTree’s solution will allow us to gain efficiencies and cost savings without sacrificing service levels.”

CMFS will use VoxLinx for its Financial Services Help Line to allow callers to access account and transaction information as well as general information about mutual funds.

“Citco Mutual Fund Services needs a voice automation platform that can work with an extremely complex back-end infrastructure,” said Fred Korangy, president and CEO of LogicTree. “Our VoxLinx™ platform will make the complexity transparent and give callers a simple, intuitive way to access information.”
